

SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

We have been attempting to find some reasonable, sound objection to the suggested election November 4, authorizing or denying the directors of the Truckee Public Utility District permission to issue bonds for the purpose of matching a $54,000 grant or gift from the WPA for the erection of an electrical power generating plant here. No adverse reason comes to mind—not even with the assistance of the vociferous objections of opponents. We are forced to admit one of two things, either the government is throwing away $54,000, which is not hard to believe possible, or the cause is a worthy one. We are firmly convinced that the latter is true and that the governmental gift will be money well expended. Now, if, as the directors claim, our rates for power can be slashed under the program of generating our own power, and if, as they also contend, our cost for wholesale power is more than the sum required annually for retirement of bonds, then we have everything to gain and nothing to lose. It seems obviously clear. We heard one opponent declare that we all might lose our homes if the bonds carry. That of course, is farce. Many other voiced objections have no more sound reason. Truckee power users have been indirectly supporting the Sierra Pacific in a small way since 1927 and as the community grows that support gains in volume and we now have an opportunity of developing Truckee, obtaining our own power plant, reducing our electric rates and with additional expense. Where can the objection be to that? There can honestly be none.

A member of the Sanitary Board informed us the other day that the board would soon provide headlines for us. That statement itself is almost a headline, but we are wondering. It can't be that they are planning that long hoped-for cleanup. That would be almost too much news for so small a paper.

Truckee Temple of Pythian Sisters will be instituted here tomorrow night, bringing into the community another worthwhile organization. We join in wishing this new lodge all the success possible. May it prosper and reflect more good on Truckee.

Nearly 200,000 rainbow trout were freed in the Truckee river, many of them large enough for sport through the combined efforts of the San Francisco Flycasting Club and the Truckee businessmen and sportsmen. Those fish were planted at no small cost and we cannot help but again pan officials of the fish and game commission for their seeming lack of interest in preservation of those costly trout. Illegal anglers will have many of them on the market for unscrupulous buyers long before the season opens. We have repeatedly asked protection, many promises have been forthcoming, but there the matter ended. We can only pray a few of our $1000 worth of trout will still be in the river on May 1.

The Truckee Parent Teachers are this week inaugurating their annual membership drive. In so doing they are doing the community a public service, for there are few organizations which are of greater benefit or more worthy of support. While much of the work is never given much public attention, its influence may be felt both in homes and the schools. A membership costs little, but your money cannot be put to a better cause. Whether you have children or not your support will be needed and the small investment will bear fruitfully.

Druggist Ducked But Gets Ducks In Nevada Drive

E. L. Loynd, Truckee merchant, returned home this week from a successful but eventful duck hunting expedition in Nevada.

Accompanied by a friend, John Ohman of Reno, Loynd set out in his truck for the Stillwater region. On unfamiliar and slippery roads roads and in a blinding rainstorm, the nimrods reached a bridge near their destination. Without chains the truck had difficulty making the approach and when it finally did, it skidded and plunged into the icy waters, carrying the two occupants into the torrential current.

It was only after several minutes of work and anxiety that the two men finally extricated themselves and climbed to the safety of the muddy bank. Loynd walked upon the bridge to view the submerged truck, and fell through a hole, thereby securing his second drenching in a few minutes time. After having the truck pulled back on the road they continued their trip and were fortunate in securing limits of ducks.

IOU — $43,000,000,000

A few years ago there was a tremendous amount of public concern over the fact that the national debt had passed the $25,000,000,000 point. Today it is forecast that the debt will shortly touch $43,000,000,000—yet public lethargy and indifference could hardly be greater. This gigantic mortgage against the earnings and property of all individuals and all business no longer makes the headlines.

Such indifference is one of the most dangerous phases of the whole problem of debt and taxation. We will never reduce the debt, even as we never will reduce or equalize taxation, without an awakened, aggressive public demand to compel a change. The politicians won't do it for us—they will simply inflate it to even higher levels. And that means more taxes and higher taxes, a steady lessened national income that can be spent productive purposes and more hard times in the future.

Wake up to the fact that the public debt is your debt. It is inescapably related to your job, your savings, your opportunities, your security. When all of us know that, Washington and the state capitols will hear a concerted public demand for a drastic change in present suicidal fiscal policies of unbalanced budgets and wasteful, extravagant and uncalled for public expenditures.

Two-thirds of all our fire deaths occur in dwellings—and 30 per cent of the fatalities are children under ten. Mull this thought over in your mind. Then answer the question:—
"IS FIRE PREVENTION WORTH WHILE?"

Woodrow Wilson, when president of Princeton in 1906, blamed the auto for the spread of socialism.

Tahoe Ramblings

(By SWANEE)

Once more Tahoe hills and vales are donning their vivid, tintillating, multi-colored Autumn dress, and along the winding shoreline, yellow and red alders and cottonwood cast shy, admiring glances at their shimmering foliage, reflected in the motionless surface of the lucid waters of the lake. To those who know and love Tahoe's every mood, no season can compare with the quiet splendor of Autumn. The riot of color rampant at every turn is the climax of each year—the loveliest of four incomparable seasons.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Valentine of Valentine's Lodge, are away enjoying a two weeks' motor trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Schmiedell of Ross, Marin county, on Monday closed their summer home at Tahoe Park for the season.

A card from Adolph Marchetti, the head waiter at Prusso's, informs that he has sailed from New York for Italy after spending some time in the Eastern metropolis.

Mrs. Annie Soll is recuperating this week at her Tahoe Pine Lodge from several hectic rounds with a prominent Reno dentist.

The Tahoe Women's Club entertained at a luncheon bridge on last Thursday at the Tahoe Community Center hall. Twenty-five guests were in attendance. Mrs. N. R. Mayfield was chairman of the day, being assisted by Mesdames Ida Simmonds, Elizabeth Worden, Northlie Pomin and Phoebe Darlin.

The high school students held a party on Friday night at the local auditorium. During the evening six freshmen were initiated and games, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

Prof. and Mrs. Hinkle left Monday to be in attendance at his mother's bedside when she suddenly became ill.

Members of the local highway department postponed their social and entertainment scheduled for last Saturday night in the community center hall when snow was reported in the vicinity of the summit. Officials and visitors invited from Sacramento decided against the trip.

Art Sather of Auburn enjoyed a sojourn at his Homewood home last week. His daughter Nancy, recently stricken with pneumonia at the Sather's Auburn home, is reported well along the recovery road.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll of Pine Lodge are the owners of a beautiful new home at Tahoe Pines which was built by Contractor Norman Mayfield of Tahoe City.

A. J. Goggans of Palo Alto was a guest at the home of his son, Ferris Goggans, at Tahoe City over the week-end.

Data garnered at the recent Reno water conference, citing the damage of highwater and erosion, was investigated.

1100 SHRINERS VISIT AT LAKE TAHOE EN ROUTE TO MEETING

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 20—On last Saturday Tahoe City was honored by the arrival of five special train loads of Shriners, 1100 in all, en route from southern California points to Reno. Like a veritable swarm of locust, they swooped down on the sleepy village, over running Tahoe Inn, Atherton's Mercantile and Turnage Market, where they practically stripped the shelves of all edibles. A huge bonfire was built near the Inn around which they gathered, laughing, eating, and clowning, and resembling a group of school boys on a vacation than a body of sedate business men. Although the visit enjoyed was only about an hour long, one train pulled out to return to Truckee as another pulled in, causing constant commotion. Busses took them on short sight seeing trips of interest and it was most regrettable that rain, snow and cold had to greet the visitors instead of one of the gorgeously beautiful days of Autumn so common at the lake.

DEER SEASON COMES TO POOR FINISH AT TAHOE; BLAME COLD

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 20—Deer season has closed in the Tahoe region with few kills brought in toward the end of the season. Many hunters who failed to get away during the opening days were left with the first unsuccessful sason of their careers, some never even getting a shot. Snow and attendant cold weather is credited with driving deer to lower and warmer levels.

Rain and snow fell again on last Saturday, precipitation for the last storm being .76 of an inch. On Monday the lake level stood at 6227.62 with 303 CSF feet of water leaving the Tahoe City Dam. Temperatures went as low as 26 above zero, forcing residents to drain car radiators.

Duck hunting season opened last Sunday with hunters changing their prey willingly. The only thing is that the ducks, like the bucks, are conspicuous by their absence.

In Maine it is against the law for anyone to set a mule on fire.

Tahoe Region Exhibit Is Planned For Golden Gate Exposition Of Next Year

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20—Plans for the exhibit of the Sacramento Valley and Tahoe Region of California at the Golden Gate International Exposition in 1939 are being made by a commission representing Solano, Yolo, Sacramento, Placer, El Dorado, Sierra and Alpine counties.

At a recent meeting of the exposition commission, Earl Van Tassel, Exhibit Director, was instructed to contact various exhibit and design companies who will prepare and submit sketches and bids. A committee of three was appointed by W.O. Russell of Yolo County, Chairman of the exposition commission, consisting of Charles Deterding of Sacramento County, Hugh Wren of Solano County, and Charles Geisendorfer of Placer County, to examine and report on the exhibit designs and bids.

The building which will house the Sacramento Valley and Tahoe Region exhibit is now under construction. It is expected that the display which will be one of the outstanding features of the World's Fair in San Francisco in 1939.

Almost one-tenth of the State of Maine consists of water.

TAHOE MAN'S PARENT DIES AT PINE CREST; WAS STATE PIONEER

October 13 marked the passing of another early California pioneer as Mrs. Anna M. Johnston died while visiting her son, J. Howard Johnston, at his Pine Crest retreat on Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Johnston, well up in her 80's, came to California as a littel girl and has lived here continuously ever since, making her home in Oakland for more than fifty years.

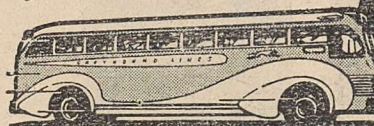

Funeral services and interment are to be in Oakland pending the arrival of her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Ehernfels, from the East.

FBI Chief Will Be Guest Speaker At Officers Meet

TAHOE CITY, Oct. 20—Nat Pieper, Pacific Coast Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be the guest speaker at the ladies' night buck stew party to be held at Tahoe Inn on next Saturday, the 22nd. ## You Will Pay More Under A Single Tax

California wouldn't be California under a single tax? When it is realized that a single tax is not a substitute for any tax but is a substitute for Democratic government, you will realize why you will pay more under its terms than you do now under the sales tax. Under the sales tax, you and I share alike, according to our ability to pay, in the costs of government. We share equally in its benefits too. That is Democracy.

The single tax, which appears as proposition 20 on the November ballot, was designed by a few theoretical men who believed that there should be no private ownership of land. In other words they saw no reason why people should own their own homes.

CONFISCATION

To prevent anyone from privately owning land these single taxers devised a way to take it. They would double or treble present land taxes. This is their plan. Six times they tried in one form or another to foster their scheme on the people of California. Six times voters have seen through the plan. This time they try a different idea.

SALES TAX KITE

They believe the sales tax to be sufficiently unpopular to make us want to repeal it. So they propose this—

Repeal the sales tax and substitute for it the single tax on land alone. It is plain to see that by this subterfuge they believe they can dupe Californians into voting away their civil rights, their rights to own property.

Other dangerous parts of the single tax proposition are these strong possibilities that insufficient money could be raised by the plan to—

Keep our schools open, provide aid for our aged, blind and other unfortunates. This can't happen. We must vote "no" on 20!

PROPOSITION NO. 2 IS DISCUSSED BY UNITED PRESS IN ARTICLE

This is the seventh in a series of articles discussing propositions to appear on the November ballot. The article deals with proposition Number 2. —United Press

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20 —(UP)—Widespread opposition has developed among medical men to proposition 2, which it is stated would hinder and retard the development of science by prohibiting the vivisection of impounded animals.

The measure has appeared on the ballot several times before.

Excerpts from official arguments prepared by Rufus B. vonKleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California, president Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford and others against the idea include these points:—

1. The measure purports to be a simple humanitarian proposal, but it is actually antivivisection legislation designed to throttle medical research into the causes and cures of disease. Therefore, it is contended the act's title, "State Humane Pound Act," is misleading.

2. The broad definition of "pound, publicly or privately conducted," makes everyone a poundmaster who accumulates dogs or cats for disposal other than for sale as pets.

3. Untold benefits have come through animal experimentation. It is responsible for Lister's development of antiseptic surgery. Without it there would be no present day control of diphtheria, small-pox, syphilis and diabetes, to name but a few diseases which once scourged mankind. Proponents have presented these claims:—

1. This measure would regulate the conduct of public pounds throughout the state of California, prohibit the sale or surrender of unclaimed dogs

2. # BANCROFT AIDED GREATLY BY JOHNSON OKEH ASSERT STATE'S EDITORS; ODDS UP

by J. F. McLAUGHIN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Entry of Hiram Johnson into the senatorial campaign was viewed by many California editors as giving his choice in the race, Philip Bancroft, a decided advantage.

His support of the Republican nominee, it was believed, would be the outstanding factor in determining the course of many voters.

For instance, according to the Marysville Appeal-Democrat, "opponents who have been trying to tie the tag of a reactionary on Philip Bancroft in his candidacy for the United States senate, have received a severe jolt in Senator Hiram Johnson's endorsement of Bancroft. No one contends that Johnson is a reactionary or that he would lend support to a candidate whom he did not consider progressive. Johnson's endorsement will be good enough for a great many California voters."

Noting it has been many years since Senator Johnson took a hand in a California campaign in which he was not a candidate, the Stockton Record continues:

"Senator Johnson has taken his stand in the senatorial race. He has given assurance that he will say more later in a discussion of issues. He promises to explain more fully why Philip Bancroft should be sent to Washington as junior senator. What one, forthright, courageous battler has to say about another will be awaited with eager interest by the California electorate."

"His endorsement of the senatorial candidacy of Philip Bancroft is not surprising," states the Fullerton News-Tribune, "because Bancroft, like Johnson, is plain-speaking and definite in his discussion of public issues. Johnson has never been a yes man and he apparently convinced that Bancroft will not adopt such a role."

Termining Johnson's announcement as the most significant political news of the week, the Oroville Mercury-Register adds:

"Under ordinary circumstances, Johnson would not be for Bancroft. They would be on opposite sides of the fence. But an emergency has arisen that causes Johnson to overlook what once would have been major differences. That emergency is Sheridan Downey, whom Johnson obviously considers a menace to good government."

Johnson's "glowing tribute," declares the Burbank Review, ought to bring Bancroft a lot of votes, continuing:

"Because of the radical radicalness of the opposing candidate, Bancroft will probably be labeled by the opposition as an ultra-conservative—even a so-called reactionary. Senator Johnson, being one of the original progressives when to be one made it necessary to beard the standpat Republican lion, then in control of the party, in his den, would certainly not give his endorsement to one who did not measure up to his standard of liberalism."

Remarking California will agree with Johnson's view on the type of congressional representation needed during the next two years, the Long Beach Press Telegram concludes:

"Decisions for the nation should be made by the best men the forty-eight states can send to Washington. Only by sending their best to Washington can the American people make a success of their representative form of government. The problems are too large, the dangers too great, for government to be left to one man or a few men. It is a task and responsibility for all of the available ability and integrity."

San Francisco betting odds on the November 8 election are as follows: Even money on the U.S. Senate race between Philip Bancroft, R., and Sheridan Downey, D.; Two to one that Culbert L. Olson will defeat incumbent Frank F. Merriam for governor and Ellis E. Patterson will defeat Dr. Walter Scott Franklin for lieutenant governor; Even money also has it that Raymond L. Haight, P., for governor will poll more than 400,000 votes.

The same source made the following pre-primary predictions: William G. McAdoo, D., and Ray Riley, R., to get the Senate nods; 2 to 1 that Ray Haight wouldn't poll 200,000 and 2 to 3 that Merriam and Olson would win.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20 —(UP)—California's general election, already shouldering more than the usual share of important issues, has just been burdened with still one more vital problem—the freedom of Thomas J. Mooney, famed labor prisoner convicted of the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing in 1916.

When the United States Supreme Court denied his writ of certiorari to review the case, Mooney's attempts to free himself through court action ended. It placed his case squarely before the voters on November 8.

Mooney is relying on the election of State Senator Culbert L. Olson as governor for his freedom. He is asking labor groups to support Olson and assertedly has Olson's word he will be pardoned if Gov. Frank Merriam is removed from office.

The 55-year old labor convict has likened himself to Captain Alfred Dreyfus, the French military prisoner who was released from prison after being "framed" by his enemies. He was bitterly disappointed when apprised of the Supreme Court action and said he will continue his 22-year fight for freedom.

His first act was to denounce the supreme court and all other courts. He said the decision was "monstrously unjust" and branded the court as "a bulwark of the predatory, corporate anti-labor interests of America."

His next move was to wire Governor Merriam, asking for an immediate pardon prior to the November 8 general elections.

"You have resorted to the time-worn political subterfuge of declining to act on the grounds that the case is still pending in the courts," Mooney charged. "You are hereby notified by me that all court actions in my behalf are now concluded and no other actions are contemplated, and I now not only insist but demand that this outrageous procrastination be ended."

Unruffled, Merriam had little to say that he would act if and when the parol application is received. From past experience, it can be assumed that Merriam will take his time no matter how he acts.

Merriam is the fifth Republican governor to refuse to pardon Mooney. His original death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Gov. William B. Stephens, at the request of President Woodrow Wilson. Since then, Friend Richardson, C.C. Young, James Rolph and Merriam have turned deaf ears to Mooney.

Mooney's dramatic fight was climaxed publicly when he came before the Senate at the special session of the legislature early in March. The next earlier, Olson had supported legislation to have him freed and secure a parole for Warren Billings, his almost forgotten partner in the famous case. Billings is in Folsom prison. Both Mooney and Billings claim they were convicted on perjured testimony.

Attorney General U. S. Webb, who has advised the state in the prosecution of the case, said: "I hope this will quiet those who knowingly contended Mooney was not tried fairly and argued he was convicted perjured testimony."

The original conviction and trial have become so obscure by time and contradictory testimony that many persons have forgotten the real issues. Probably a majority of the anti-labor and conservative element feel that Mooney should be kept locked up as a dangerous radical. Others feel he has served his time, taken more than his rightful punishment, and should be freed.

There is growing sentiment that Mooney's influence in the outside world would be diminished in view of the tremendous change in the labor movement in recent years. With the American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization fighting for domination on a national scale, it is argued that Mooney would be lost as an old man with bitter memories.

It cannot be denied that Mooney in prison has constituted one of the greatest weapons of the labor movement. He is a martyr, his cause brings contributions and workers, his opinions are spread far. If released, there will not be the compelling incentive as during the long years of his confinement.

Mooney doubtless realizes the odds are against him for a pardon from Merriam. That's probably why he said he would wait until the election.

"If I am disappointed in my hopes in Olson, which I am convinced I shall not be, I shall make a direct appeal to Organized Labor in America to bring about my release through economic action."
